The California High-Speed Rail Authority has begun the formal environmental review process for a high-speed train system in California by initiating a State Program Environmental Impact Report (EIR) and a Federal Tier I Environmental Impact Statement (EIS).

www.cahighspeedrail.ca.gov

To ensure that the issues most important to California residents, public agencies and other involved parties are addressed in this review, the Authority is hosting a series of scoping meetings to collect public input.

Your participation and comments will help determine the range of alternatives and environmental issues to be addressed as the Authority reviews a high-speed train system for the state. The comments received at these meetings will influence the scope of the Draft Program EIR/EIS.

Take advantage of this opportunity to influence an important solution to California's transportation needs in the 21st century.

The Notice of Preparation (NOP) for the Program Environmental Document, the schedule and location of scoping meetings and a listing of other public meetings are available at www.cahighspeedrail.ca.gov.

If you are unable to attend the public scoping meetings, you may provide your comments at the Authority's website, shown above, or in writing to the address on the front of this mailer.
