Dear Supervisor Grover:

The Stanislaus Medical Society is celebrating its 100th Anniversary in 2010. Because this is such a special occasion we will honor all of our physician members as the recipient of the John Darroch Memorial Award (yearly outstanding physician award). We have over 650 active, retired and resident members and our membership continues to increase with each year. We are exceptionally proud of the fact that our medical society has the largest percentage of member physicians - more than any other medical society in California.

We would like to request a resolution or letter of recognition for this 100th Anniversary and the dedicated physicians who comprise the membership. All honors and recognition will be presented at our upcoming Annual Membership meeting scheduled for Thursday, May 27, 2010 at the Del Rio Country Club in Modesto. The event will begin at 6:00 PM. Please let us know if you or your representative will be able to attend (an RSVP card is enclosed for your convenience) and be available to make the presentation. If you or your representative is not able to attend, our current President, Lisa Masson, MD will be honored to read and present any special recognition.

Attached is a copy of the early history of the Stanislaus Medical Society, our current announcement that will appear in the Modesto Bee on Doctors' Day (March 30th) and a list of our officers and past presidents. Please accept our gratitude for your help. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact our office.

Sincerely,

Joanne Chipponeri

STANISLAUS COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY A BRIEF HISTORY

By John A. Cooper, M.D.

From 1804 to 1806, California was held by Spain as a piece of territory of no great value but as a buffer between Mexico and the Russians in Alaska. Indians lived along the rivers. The streams teemed with fish that could be caught by hand in the fall when the water was low. The lakes and waterways harbored innumerable geese and ducks and the land abounded with deer, antelope, grizzly bear and small game. Spanish explorers named the San Joaquin River.

In 1829, an Indian named Estanislao had a gang of marauders upon the Stanislaus River, then known as the Rio Laquismes, and it is from his name that both the river and the country are known. A few trappers appeared in the valley in 1820 and some Mormon farmers in 1846.

In 1848, California was ceded to the United States and gold was discovered. In 1854, Governor Bigler set boundaries for Stanislaus County which had previously been considered an almost valueless portion of Tuolumne County. A Dr. Adams had founded the vanished county seat of Adamsville. In 1871, the Central Pacific Railroad started the town of Modesto which became the fifth county seat. Mention is made of such names as Jackson, Marks, Hall, McLean and White as physicians.

In 1878, the following men were listed as being licensed to practice medicine in Stanislaus County:

Anderson, J. A.	Hills Ferry
Hazen, C. C.	Oakdale
Jackson, Joseph S.	Modesto
Lowe, H.	Knights Ferry
McClellan, S. M.	Modesto
Miller, C. F.	Hills Ferry
Surbaugh, J. T.	Oakdale
Thompson, Herbert	Modesto
Wilhite, W. J.	Modesto
Ray, Dennis	Modesto

By 1884, there were no sidewalks in Modesto other than wooden ones put down in form of business houses. In the wet seasons, the streets were muddy and in the dry ones, they were thick with dust and sand. There was no illumination on them. Pigs, cows and horses roamed at will. Robberies and murders were commonplace.

By January 31, 1895, fifteen physicians were licensed to practice in the county. The old County Hospital had been built in 1891. The following were licensed:

Evans, C. W.	Modesto
Gilmour, A. A.	Modesto
Hart, A. J.	Modesto
Hazen, C. C.	Oakdale
Lowe, J. H.	Knights Ferry
Marvin, Mrs. C. E.	Modesto
McClellan, S. M.	Modesto
Miller, C. F.	Hills Ferry
Osler, C.	Oakdale
Pratt, C. H.	Oakdale
Surbaugh, J. T.	Oakdale
Wilhite, W. J.	Modesto
Ray, Dennis	Modesto
Vincent, F. D.	Modesto
Young, J. Phil	Turlock

The Medical Society

With 1900, began an era of better roads, electricity, the telephone and the automobile. In 1903, Dr. Surryhne built the first private hospital in Modesto. Dr. Surryhne and Dr. F. DeLappe formed an informal society of two. Dr. J. C. Robertson began practice in 1906. To Evans he as the "damned preacher" while DeLappe was the "beardless youth".

By 1910 some sort of society was established with Dr. W. J. Wilhite as president the Dr. B. F. Surryhne as secretary.

Records of the State Society establish that in 1915 an organization of eight members existed with Dr. Surryhne as president and Dr. S. W. Cartwright as secretary. Between 1916 and 1922, Dr. Reamer had served as president twice and as secretary four times. The Society meetings usually took place at the Hotel Modesto and an average attendance was between eighteen and twenty. Unfortunately, the records of the local Society were lost before 1940.

The depression was acutely felt and during World War II, many of the doctors were in service. Dr. Gant acted as president in 1941 and was unable to locate the early records. In 1946, physicians returned from the services and new men joined them. Prior to that time, the County had one G. U. man, a few E. E. N. & T. men and several women physicians who tended to exclude adult males from their clientele. Many of the new men had been trained in specialties, obstetrics and gynecology, orthopedics, G. U., general surgery, internal medicine et cetera. The general
