Supervisor O'Brien reported that he traveled to Washington D.C. last week as part of the Stanislaus Collaborative to pursue support of several different projects. He noted that the atmosphere in Washington D.C. is all about cutting budgets. However, there is some hope through COPS Grants for additional money for technology as well as a potential collaboration with the Department of Homeland Security to utilize empty beds in our Public Safety Center.

The CEO reported that the federal government Continuing Resolution is set to expire on 04/08/2011, and if not reauthorized, would cause the shutdown of the federal government. It looks hopeful that the Continuing Resolution will be extended and that the leadership of both houses will continue to work towards a budget solution. He reported that at the State level, the opportunity for a statewide ballot initiative to continue the funding that is set to expire is passing by. The Legislature and the Administration will be attempting to find a solution to the ongoing State budget challenges that does not require voter approval for a revenue source.
