

Notice of Privacy Practices

Effective Date: April 14, 2003

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

If you have any questions about this notice, please contact the Health Services Agency Administration (Attn: Privacy Officer), Post Office Box 3271, Modesto, CA 95353.

WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE

This Notice of Privacy Practices (NPP) identifies the rights that a patient or a patient's legal representative has with respect to the uses and disclosures of confidential protected health information made by the Health Services Agency (Agency), the individual's rights and the Agency's legal duties with respect to this protected health information.

This NPP is a joint notice for all Stanislaus County Health Services Agency covered entities, sites and locations, Scenic Faculty Medical Group (SFMG) and contract providers. The covered entities include the Agency's medical and dental clinics, the Urgent Care Center, Rehabilitation Services, Indigent Health Care Program and certain Public Health services. These entities and sites may share protected health information with each other for treatment, payment or health care operations purposes described in this notice. All covered entities and sites will follow the terms of this notice.

OUR PLEDGE REGARDING PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Protecting your privacy is important to the Agency and its staff. We want you to understand that we are committed to protecting your protected health information. The information we collect is stored in a record/chart that describes the care and services that you receive at one of the offices, specialty clinics or other supportive health services. In order to provide you with the best possible care and to comply with federal and state regulations, we regularly manage and maintain patient information. This notice applies to all records of contact generated by the Agency's clinically integrated and organized health care system. The following Agency privacy policy serves as a standard for all Agency employees for collection, use, disclosure, retention and security of protected health information.

"Protected health information" is individually identifiable health information that is transmitted by electronic media, maintained via the internet, extranet, leased lines, dial-up lines, private networks, magnetic tape, disk, or compact disk media, or transmitted or maintained in any other form or medium.

This notice informs you of the ways in which we may use or disclose protected health information about you. This notice also describes your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of protected health information.

We are required by law to:

- Make sure that protected health information that identifies you is kept private;
- Give you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to protected health information about you; and
- Follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

For Treatment

We may use protected health information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose protected health information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical residents, or other medical staff who are involved in your care. Different departments within the Agency also may share protected health information about you in order to coordinate your care, such as prescriptions, lab work and x-rays. We also may disclose protected health information about you to other medical providers outside the Agency who may be involved in your medical care.

For Payment

We may use and disclose protected health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party. We may need to give your health plan information about surgery you received at the Agency so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the treatment. We may also tell your health plan (IHCP, Kaiser, BC, etc.) about a treatment to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment. We may share information about you to allow other providers to receive payment for caring for you.

For Health Care Operations

We may use and disclose protected health information about you for health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the health care system and make sure that all of our patients/clients receive quality care. We generally use and disclose protected health information to:

- Review treatment and services to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you.
- Combine protected health information about many patients to decide what additional services the Agency should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective.
- Doctors, nurses, medical residents, and other staff for review and learning purposes.
- Conduct or arrange for medical reviews, legal services, auditing, and insurance-related functions.
- Combine protected health information we have with protected health information from other health care providers to compare how we are doing and see where we can make improvements in the care and services we offer. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of protected health information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are.

Appointment Reminders

We may use and disclose protected health information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for treatment or medical care at the Agency.

Health-Related Products and Services

We may use and disclose protected health information to tell you about our health-related products or services that may be of interest to you.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care

We may release protected health information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care. Unless there is a specific written request from you to the contrary, we may also tell your family or friends about your condition. In addition, we may disclose protected health information about you to an entity assisting in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status and location.

Research

We may disclose protected health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the medical and recovery of all patients who receive one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of protected health information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their protected health information. We will always ask for your specific permission if the researcher will have access to your name, address or other information that reveals who you are.

As Required By Law

We will disclose protected health information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local laws or regulations.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety

We may use and disclose protected health information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors

We may release protected health information to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death. We may also release protected health information about patients of the Agency to funeral directors as necessary to carry out their duties.

Food and Drug Administration (FDA)

We may disclose to the FDA protected health information relative to adverse events with respect to food, supplements, product and product defects, or post marketing surveillance information to enable product recalls, repairs or replacement.

Public Health Risks

We may disclose protected health information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include the prevention and/or control of disease, injury or disability, reporting births, deaths, abuse or neglect of children, elders and dependent adults, report reaction to medication or problems with products, to notify people or recall products they may be using, to notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition, to notify the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will make this disclosure if you agree or when required or authorized by law.

Military and Veterans

If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release protected health information about you as required by military authorities. We may also release protected health information about foreign military staff to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Health Oversight Activities

We may disclose protected health information about you to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with applicable laws.

Workers' Compensation

We may disclose protected health information about you for worker's compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Lawsuits and Disputes

If you are involved with a lawsuit or dispute, we may disclose protected health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose protected health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

Law Enforcement

We may disclose protected health information if asked to do so by a law enforcement official:

- In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process;
- To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;
- About the victim of a crime if, under certain limited circumstances, we are unable to obtain the person's agreement;
- About a death we believe may be the result of criminal conduct;
- About criminal conduct at the Agency; and
- In emergency circumstances to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

Inmates

If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release protected health information about you to the correctional institution or law enforcement official to provide you with medical care, to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others and for the safety and security of the correctional institution.

National Security and Intelligence Activities

We may release protected health information about you to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law.

Protective Services for the President and Others

We may disclose protected health information about you to authorized federal officials so they may provide protection to the President, other authorized persons or foreign heads of state or conduct special investigations.

Security Clearances

We may use protected health information about you to make decisions regarding your medical suitability for a security clearance or service abroad. We may also release your medical suitability determination to the officials in the Department of State who need access to that information for these purposes.

Other Disclosures

In addition to the above disclosures, other uses and disclosures will be made only with the individual's or the individual's legal representative's written authorization, which may be revoked in writing.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

Right to Inspect and Copy

You have the right to inspect and copy protected health information that may be used to make decisions about your care. This information includes medical and billing records, but may not include some mental health information.

To inspect and copy protected health information you must submit your request in writing to the Medical Records Department. If you request a copy of the information, you may be charged an administrative fee for the costs of copying and mailing if requested.

We may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain very limited circumstances. If so, you can appeal that denial and another licensed health care professional chosen within the Agency's health care system will review your request and the denial. We will comply with the outcome of the review.

Please note that protected health information is usually kept for ten years for adults and 25 years for minors. After the appropriate time frame the documents are destroyed.

Right to Amend

We make every effort to maintain accurate information in your chart. In the event you feel that information about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may request to have that information amended. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by or for the Agency's health care system.

To request an amendment, your request must be made in writing and submitted to Health Services Agency Administration (Attn: Quality Management Coordinator), Post Office Box 3271, Modesto, CA 95353.

You must also submit documentation that supports your request.

We may deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that:

- Was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to make the amendment;
- Is not part of the protected health information kept by or the Agency;
- Is not part of the information which you would be permitted to inspect or copy; or
- Is accurate and complete.

Even if we deny your request for the amendment, you have the right to submit a written addendum, not to exceed 250 words, with respect to any item or statement in your record you believe is incomplete or incorrect. If you clearly indicate in writing that you want the addendum to be made part of your medical record we will attach it to your records and include it whenever we make a disclosure of the item or statement you believe to be incomplete or incorrect.

Right to an Accounting of Disclosures

You have a right to request an "accounting of disclosures". This is an accounting of disclosures the Agency made of protected health information about you other than (a) our own uses for treatment, payment and health care operations; (b) to you of protected health information about you; and (c) as required by law.

To request an accounting of disclosures, you must submit your request in writing to the Medical Records Department. Your request must state a time period, which may be not be longer than six years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003. The first accounting you request within a 12month period will be free. For additional accountings, we may charge you for the costs of providing the list. We will notify you of the cost involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

Right to Request Restrictions

You have a right to request a restriction or limitation on the protected health information we use or disclose about you for treatment, payment or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on the protected health information we disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care, like a family member or friend. The Agency is only required to approve alternate means of communication.

We are not required to agree to your request. If we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide emergency treatment.

To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to the Medical Records Department. In your request, you must tell us (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limit to apply, for example, disclosures to your spouse or other family members.

Right to Request Confidential Communications

You have the right to request that we communicate with you about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail.

To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to the Medical Record Department of each clinic or site from which you expect to may receive calls or mail. We will not ask you the reason for the request. We will accommodate all reasonable requests. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

Right to a Paper Copy of This Notice

You have the right to a paper copy of this notice. You may ask us to give you a copy of this notice at any time. Even if you have agreed to receive this notice electronically or are currently not a customer/client of the Health Services Agency, you are still entitled to a paper copy of this notice.

You may obtain a copy of this notice at our website, www.hsahealth.org

To obtain a paper copy of this notice, stop by any of the Agency's medical clinics, or contact the Health Services Agency Administration (Attn: Privacy Officer), Post Office Box 3271, Modesto, CA 95353.

Security of Protected Health Information

We take steps to safeguard your protected health information. We restrict access to your protected health information to Agency staff, business associates, and other covered entities practicing at the Agency who need to know that information. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with federal, state and local standards to safeguard your protected health information. We establish agreements with all Business Associates that details the extent to which your client information should be used and restricts any additional disclosure of your patient information.

Changes to this Notice

We reserve the right to change this notice. We reserve the right to make the revised or changed notice effective for protected health information we already have about you as well as any information we receive in the future. We will post a copy of the current notice in all the covered entities of the Agency. Additionally, each time you receive health care services, we will provide you with a copy of the current notice upon request.

Complaints

The Agency view complaints as constructive criticism that will enable us to look at current processes and improve on the quality of service or care that it provides. Please tell us how we're doing. If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with the Health Services Agency or the Department of Health and Human Services.

To file a complaint complete a "Customer Complaint Form" and either give it to a staff person who will forward it to the Quality Management Coordinator or mail the complaint to:

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

You will not be penalized for filing a complaint.

Other Uses of Protected Health Information

Other uses and disclosures of protected health information not covered by this notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written permission. If you provide us permission to use and disclose protected health information about you, you may revoke that permission, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your permission, we will no longer use or disclose protected health information about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to rescind any disclosures we have already made with your permission, and that we are required to retain our records of the care that we provided to you.
