Workshop: Getting started in family history research

Is your last name Washington? Franklin? Could you be related to someone famous? Discovering your genealogical history can be a fun adventure, but it may not be an easy task. An overview of how to prepare a genealogical search will be offered twice at the Modesto Library: Wednesday, March 21, at 6 p.m. and Wednesday, April 18, at 6 p.m.

The free workshop will provide information about how to get started and how to phrase online searches for the best results, as well as tips about reputable Web sites. Advance sign-up is required and space is limited. Upon registration, students will receive a family tree worksheet, which must be completed before the class. Sign up at the Modesto Library Magazine Desk or call 558-7814.
