Scenic Faculty Medical Group and Stanislaus County Health Services Agency Mourn the Loss of Beloved Physician

Stanislaus County – The Scenic Faculty Medical Group and the Stanislaus County Health Services Agency are reeling from the loss of Dr. Amanda Crews. This is a very emotional time for our medical family as Dr. Crews was a beloved part of our care team.

We are grieving deeply. We have known her since she joined the physician residency program as a young doctor and blossomed into a highly respected member of the Scenic Faculty Medical Group teaching family. We are extremely appreciative of the kind words and support from our community during this difficult time. The love and compassion we have seen is overwhelming.

Stanislaus County is currently providing extensive grief counseling services to our employees and providers and will continue this into the future. We are deeply shaken and need significant time to heal.

Our deepest condolences go out to the family, friends and patients of Dr. Crews. She was loved as a mentor to the residents she taught. She was loved as a physician by her patients and she was loved and respected by her colleagues.

Through all of this, we are asking for everyone to please respect the privacy and confidentiality of all Health Services Agency patients and clinic locations. There have been many media requests to talk to patients of Dr. Crews and there have been reports of media coming onto the medical campuses to find patients and other people to talk to. We understand the media needs to tell this story; but we also ask you to please respect this time of mourning. There will be a community vigil this evening that provides an excellent opportunity to interview many different people who are extending their love and respect to Dr. Crews.

Scenic Faculty Medical Group and Stanislaus County are referring all media questions related to this matter to the Modesto Police Department public information department.
