

Feeling buried by healthcare reform?

REMEMBER-
The deadline is Jan. 31!

Do you have health insurance? Choosing individual coverage can feel like an avalanche of decisions. Don't worry — we've got experts who can help with that.

Did you know that open enrollment for coverage through the public marketplaces is November 1, 2015 – January 31, 2016? Depending on how many hours you work, you may be eligible for your employer's plan. But if you're not covered by your employer's plan, or you have dependents who are not covered, you need to find coverage on your own.

Finding coverage doesn't have to be hard. You might even qualify for financial help. That's where we come in. We've got experts to help you—for free. Call us at (877) 470-3075 and get your questions answered by a licensed health insurance counselor. When you call, you'll need to provide some basic information, including your Social Security Number, number of people in your household, and your estimated income for 2015.

They can answer all your Marketplace questions, like:

- Whether you're eligible for government money to help you purchase health coverage
- How to find out if you qualify for Medicaid
- How to apply for coverage through the marketplace

The counselors will walk you through the process, helping you come up for air. If appropriate, they'll also enroll you in an individual health plan through your state marketplace that fits your needs and budget, and will leave no stone unturned to find you financial help to pay for it.

Visit healthcompare.com/alliant for more information. Or call (877) 470-3075 to get out from under the avalanche.