Weight Loss Tradition Comes Back Weight loss competition kicks off at Health Summit in Newman, California

Stanislaus County, CA – The end of June signals the start of a regional tradition in Stanislaus and northern Merced counties as the biggest losers prepare to battle.

The West Side Health Care Task Force is presenting its ninth annual "Healthy Choices Summit" at the West Side Theatre, 1331 Main Street, in downtown Newman, California from 4:30 – 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 29, 2017.

The Summit will feature the extremely lively "weigh-in" of the local biggest loser contest on a giant 10 - person scale under a massive balloon arch. The weigh-in starts at 4:30 p.m. Teams of ten people are battling for the title of "Biggest Loser" in an eight-week weight loss program. Last year, members from Patterson Promotoras Baile took the weight loss team title.

"Our goal is to make good nutrition and healthy living part of everyday life," stated Jim DeMartini, the Stanislaus County District 5 Supervisor and Chairman of the West Side Health Care Task Force. "We are committed to reducing obesity, diabetes, and heart disease in our local community."

Keynote speaker, Dr. John Walker, Retired Public Health Officer for Stanislaus County, will be discussing healthy people in a healthy Stanislaus. The health summit will also feature vendor demonstrations, health videos and free healthy sandwiches provided. The Summit is free and open to the public.
