- Permits are required for residential storage buildings. Residential storage buildings are only exempt from a permit providing they meet the following: Are a one story detached accessory structure used as tool and storage shed, playhouses and similar uses, provided the floor area is not greater than 120 square feet.
- Please note that any electrical, mechanical, plumbing etc. may not be installed into a residential storage shed, including exempted sheds, without a permit.
- Residential storage buildings are for storage of personal items. Vehicle storage changes the use to a garage, please see residential garage fee estimates.

Please be advised that each project and parcel is unique in and of itself therefore; any fees given prior to plan approval are for estimating purposes only. These fees may not be all inclusive and could be subject to change.
