Probation Department Report:

Chief Probation Officer Mark Ferriera reported that the current population was 64 youth, of which 50 are in Juvenile Hall, and 14 are housed at the Juvenile Commitment Facility. Additionally, he reported the following:

- 1 youth is pending placement and is serving a commitment time.
- He provided an overview of the youth's age currently in custody.
- 19 youth are over the age of 18, of which 3 are over the age of 20.
- 11 youths are committed to the Secure Youth Treatment Facility (SYTF).
- Length of stay: 13 youths have been in custody for over 365 days; the longest stay is 1115 days.
- 6 individuals are pending a transfer hearing.
- 1 youth who is 20 is being tried as an adult.
- 2 high school graduations occurred on January 19; one of the youths is a SYTF youth.

Mark shared that 2 court-committed youths were taken to see the Orchestra at the Gallo Center of Arts on December 2nd; the tickets were received as a donation. He noted that everything went well, and the youth were excited to have gone.

Chief Ferriera also reported a spike in theft bookings, noting that it could be associated with a grant MPD received to combat retail theft. Dawn Cullum asked if there has been a rise in bookings for homicide-related offenses. Mark stated that there has not been any significant rise in homicides.

Mark discussed the recent Board of State and Community Corrections (BSCC) Juvenile Facilities Inspections. He informed the group that the BSCC sets the standards for the institutions and is obligated to do annual inspections to ensure Title 15 compliance. He discussed everything the BSCC touched on during the inspection and noted that there were two areas they were asked to fix. The case planning for the institutions was cited as needing improvement, and the second thing they asked was for the do process form to be updated to be more precise for the youth. He reported that the case planning and the do process form had been fixed and are now fully compliant. Dawn Cullum asked if there have been any releases from the SYTF. Chief Ferriera responded that two youths from SYTF have been released.

Juvenile Facilities Superintendent Tracie Martin announced that there will be added programming in custody this year. She also provided the following information:

- SYTF youth are now participating in Culinary through SCOE. Culinary is rotating between units. The last session involved Unit 3.
- Mobile Culinary is now being provided to Unit 5 (Conducted in the dayroom of Unit 8).
- Coding continues to be offered to all Unit 5 youth.
- Paxton Patterson Labs have started, and all the units are participating.
- The Digital Arts Program is available for all the units.

- 2 youths graduated the Anger Replacement Therapy (ART) Graduations for the JCF and Unit 5.
- 9 youth are currently enrolled in MJC.
- The Prison Education project is due to start on February 20th.

Ms. Cullum asked if the SYTF youth could choose if they wanted to attend programming. Tracie answered that youth are given a choice to attend the programs offered. Judge Rees and other JJC members asked to be advised before future graduations.

Division Director David Costa provided the following update:

- Another group of Deputy Probation Officers from the Juvenile Division will attend a training hosted by Leaders in Community Alternatives (LCA) but taught by the University of Cincinnati, certifying them as instructors for the Cognitive Behavioral Interventions (CBI)-Core Youth curriculum. Cognitive Behavioral Interventions is an evidence-based course with a broader approach to targeting youth's criminogenic needs. The training will take place in the upcoming weeks.
- Barrier removal in helping the youth get identification documents is moving in the right direction. LCA works with our youth in and out of custody in barrier removal. One of the things they work on is helping youth get their birth certificates, social security cards, or California IDs to assist them with attaining employment. LCA encountered a hurdle, needing documents notarized for youth in the facilities. Confidential Assistants working for the Probation Department are certified as Notaries for HR-related matters; they have also been used as a resource to help the youth with notary services.
- Workforce Development teaches the Let's Work course, which is held at the Juvenile Programming Center. With the recent class referral numbers exceeding what they can comfortably teach in their current space. They proposed teaching the course in their Downtown location on 12th Street in Modesto; the space can accommodate larger class sizes, is set up with computer access workshops, and is centrally located for accessible public transportation options. The logistics have been worked out, and they are piloting the first class at their Downtown location. Division Director David Costa noted that the move will benefit the youth and the program.

Fidel Landeros asked if the Probation Department assists undocumented youth with immigration resources. Assistant Chief Probation Officer Leticia Ruano noted never running into such a situation. Dawn Cullum pointed out that attorneys are responsible for providing their clients with immigration resources. The group discussed different resources out in the community that could be of some assistance to those youth needing guidance in resolving their immigration status. Wanda Bonnell advised knowing attorneys that specialize in immigration and would be forwarding the information to the JJC Chair.

The Juvenile Justice Commission Chair submitted the 2024 JJC Annual Activities Report for review and approval. 2023 Juvenile Justice Commission Year End Report

We welcomed back returning Hon. Judge Ruben Villalobos, reassigned to the Juvenile Justice Court Department 17. He is replacing departing Hon. Judge Jeff Mangar. Hon. Judge Annette Rees remains as the Presiding Juvenile Judge in Department 18. Additionally we welcomed Sandra Ainslie as a new, sworn member of the Commission.

Throughout the year Chief Ferriera and his staff kept the Commission informed with detailed reports at each meeting regarding the current population of youth in custody, with specific information for each Unit. In addition we are provided updates about existing and new programs and services available for the youth.

Programming available to the youth includes:

- Aggression Replacement Training (ART)
- Financial Literacy Courses
- Computer Coding and Website Design
- Love Notes Program
- Culinary Program
- Soft Skills/Life Skills
- Victimization Courses
- Online MJC Courses
- Agricultural Program

Substance Abuse Counseling services are now available in the facility; the facilitator is awaiting his certification while providing the services.

Second Chance Podcast, an innovative program under the direction of a Performance-based Standards (PbS) employee, developed a Podcast Library on achieving success within institutional barriers. Youth from the Maximum-Security Unit were mentored and two of the youth from Max participated in the April production.

Construction and preparation for housing Secure Track youth was completed and is in full operation, including an expanded recreation area. Secure Track youth housed within the institution are receiving the required programming in accordance with the SB823 plan.

DD Dave Costa provided ongoing updates related to youth on probation and the additional trainings staff is receiving including:

- 8-hour Verbal De-escalation training, addressing how to defuse situations verbally.
- 4-hour biannual training update on De-escalation
- Annual certified Use of Force Continuum Course within the range program that builds officers' ability to transition to different force options, including de-escalation

The training program is geared to improve officers' ability to continuously evaluate the appropriate response in ever changing situations and make safe and legal choices.

DD Costa also reported that officers receive the following training:

- Special Needs Populations in Probation/Corrections
- Emotional Intelligence
- Mentally Disordered Probationers: Probation Officer Skills for Optimal Outcomes
- Ethics for Law Enforcement, which is required every two years.
- Cultural Competency for Today's Law Enforcement Professional

The facility passed the Board of State and Community Corrections (BSCC) Biennial Inspection of over 108 Title 15 regulations and were found in compliance with all except two. The two items were case plan updates and processes related to due process when discipline is imposed. Both issues have since been corrected.

In June our Commission voted to modify our Bylaws to reflect our decision to modify our meeting schedule. It was agreed that meetings be held quarterly in February, June, August, and October. The proposed months align with the Juvenile Justice Coordination Council and will allow for more efficient reporting. The Juvenile Justice Commission Bylaws were amended to reflect the new meeting schedule under Article 5 of the JJC Bylaws. This modification resulted in also amending the Bylaws to confirm that a report of the Commission's activities is now due annually in February. Amendment to Section 8 of Article 5 of the Bylaws was approved.

In October our Commission conducted our annual tour and inspection of both facilities with positive reports. Commissioners again were pleased to see attention given to educational options and job skill training in the Max Units, JCF Camp and Secure Track. We marveled at the new mural in the hallway and remain impressed with the on-site County Library and activity room available for the youth as well as the Culinary Program. Unit 3, a co-ed unit housing general population youth, while fully safe and secure, could benefit from some cosmetic updating and modernization.

Additionally, our Commission has informally adopted the practice of receiving a report from a service provider or program at our regularly scheduled meetings to become better acquainted with offerings and services available to the youth. We received a presentation from Leaders in Community Alternatives (LCA) at our August meeting and intend to continue this practice at future meetings.

Commissioners visited and inspected the Oakdale and Modesto Police Department holding areas for youth and reviewed related record keeping. All requirements were met and reports were submitted.

Humberto Nunez continues to meet the requirements each semester and receive the Judge Underwood Scholarship to assist with his college education.
